"Only yesterday! Was I that small child who looked up at the whole world and waited - waited to grow up! Or was I the senior who was at the top of my public school education!"

One thing we learned at Mounds this year was that time didn't stand still. Mounds schools and students moved up and forward. We were busy and active - in the classroom and out. We looked upward and strove to excel in all we attempted. Teachers challenged us and we worked hard to accept the challenge. We saw new buildings go up, and our campus expand. Go with us as we try to capture the golden moments of 1987.

'UP WITH STUDENT LIFE

"Where did you say we were going?"

What do you get when you put 625 homo-sapiens on 10 acres of terra firma?

You get Mounds School!!!

If you add a dash of enthusiasm and "a whole lot" of school spirit, you end up with the best student body in Oklahoma, and that's what this yearbook is all about.

For the first time Mounds had three separate campuses, but we all worked as one big family. Remember football homecoming: how hot it was and how sun blistered we all got while getting ready for the parade. Remember all the fashions that were really "in": big shirts, wrestling boots, brooches, baggy jeans, tennies with no laces. Do you remember the top songs, gas being only 71 cents a gallon, all the rain in October that flooded neighboring Tulsa county? Do you remember the practice field being ankle deep in mud; the band marching barefoot with the worms squishing between their toes? What about the football boys looking like they had been making mud pies?

The next few pages catch some of the great times in the lives of Mounds students. We were seldom just doing nothing. From the time the school opened until the last person left at night, students were busy and looking UP and to the future.

Our three campuses were unique with each separate group "doing their own thing." Elementary students kept busy on the merry-go-round, the slide, or playing a friendly game of tag. Junior high students congregated in their own small groups with each group having a personality all its own. High school students, on the other hand, stayed as far out of sight as possible. However, when important occasions came, all students pulled together to make each project a success. That was what made our school unique!

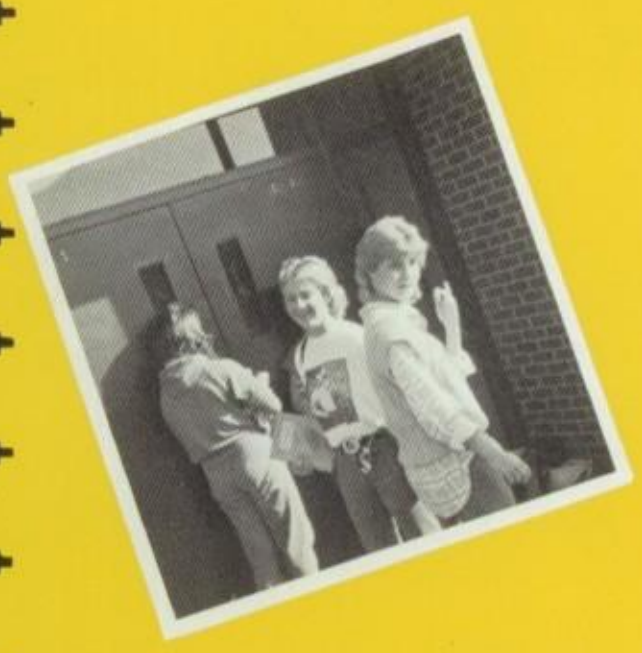
FADS FACTS FAVORITES

PRICE LIST

Teens in 1986-87 worked at $3.35 per hour but had to pay the following prices for life's essentials.

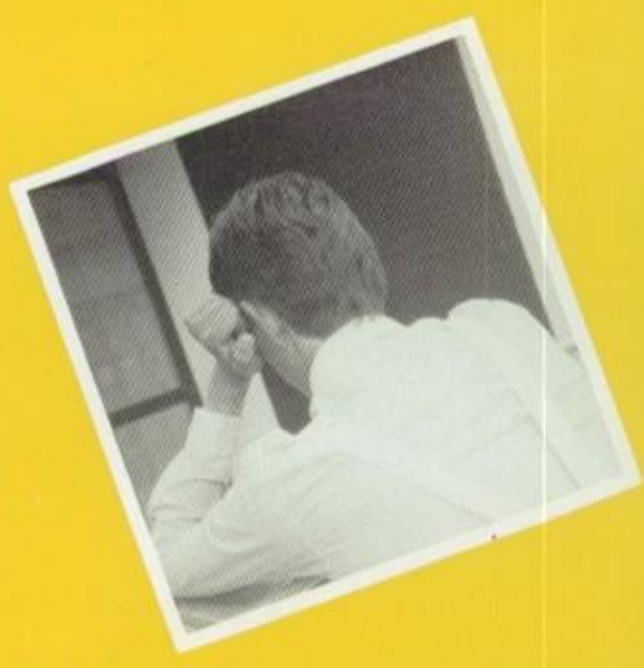
Album	$8.97
Candy bar	.40
Canned soft drink	.50
Concert ticket (average price)	$15.00
School lunch	.50
Unleaded gas	.71
Regular gas	.68
McDonald's ¼ pounder	$1.30
VCR rentals	$2-3.00
Movie ticket	$1-5.00

Harmony, Stephanie, and Belinda believe in dressing "in style." Fashions in '87 reflected personal choice. Popular choices included the big sweater and undershirt, Lee baggies, unlaced tennies, paisley shirts, white casual pants, flats, mini-skirts in jeans fabrics, and ankle socks. Our young ladies are dressed with class.



Wranglers, Levis, George Strait T's. big shirts & sweater vests: Christy & Kim's favorites.

Swatches, brooches, big hearts, beads and bracelets - the more the better was the fashion this year.



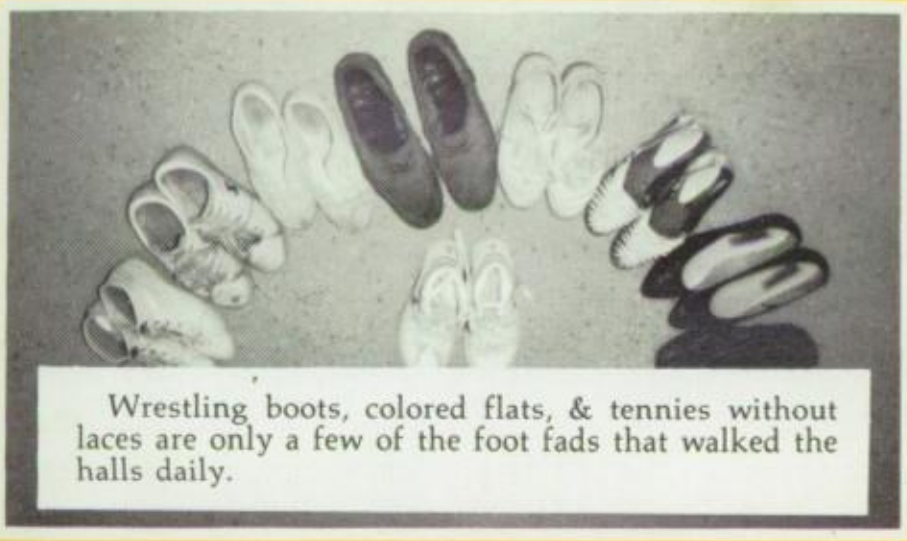
Stylish suspenders hit the fashion scene once again.

Susan, Shannon, & Sherry "dressed" up in some of the most faddish styles around. Skirts ranged from mini's all the way to near-the-ankle, usually in jean or knit fabrics of almost any color. We topped these off with something big and comfy or layered a sweater vest over a favorite blouse. "We were on our way to class with style!"

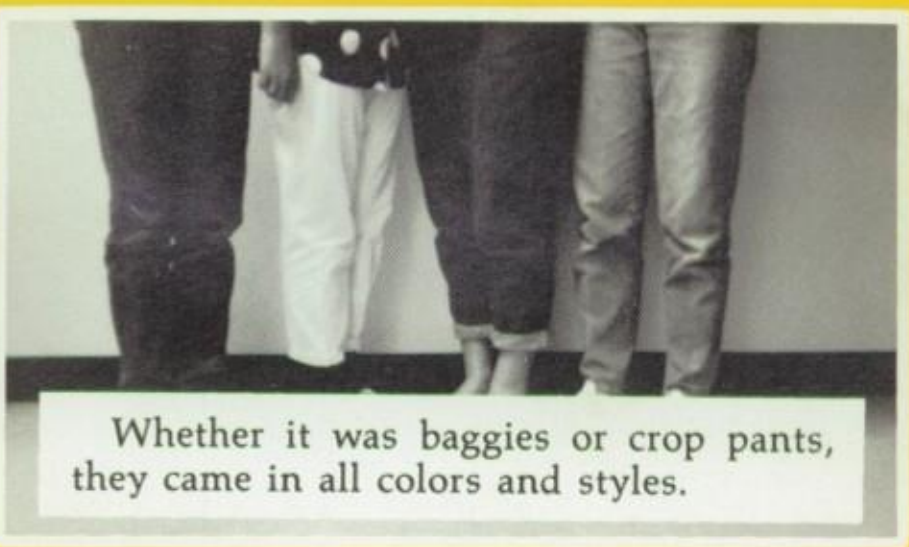
FAVORITES

Group: Huey Lewis & The News
Song: "Love in Any Language"
Male Singer: George Strait
Female Singer: Madonna
Hang out: Sapulpa Cruz
T.V. Show: "Bill Cosby Show"
Movie: "Top Gun"
Color: Blue
Pastime: "Party"
Food: Pizza

Banana combs, Boz, and the bob were hot on the list for hair fads. From elementary all the way UP to seniors, Mounds students expressed themselves with many different styles.



Wrestling boots, colored flats, & tennies without laces are only a few of the foot fads that walked the halls daily.



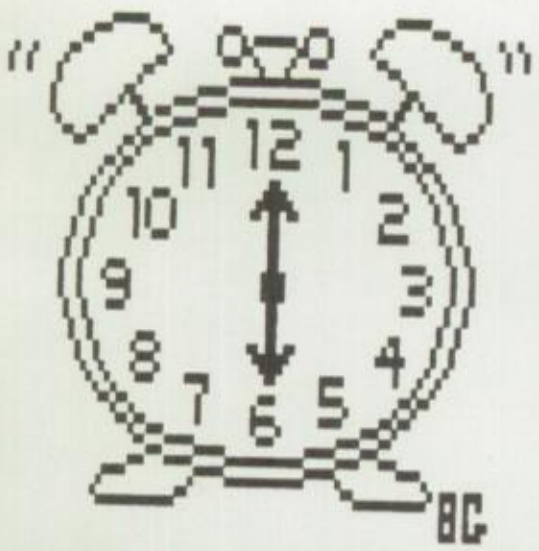
Whether it was baggies or crop pants, they came in all colors and styles.

Fourth graders like fads too! Matt Lenard sports a popular hair fashion.

Big bags to load daily necessities and a pair of pretty flats to take one to class accessorize nearly any outfit.

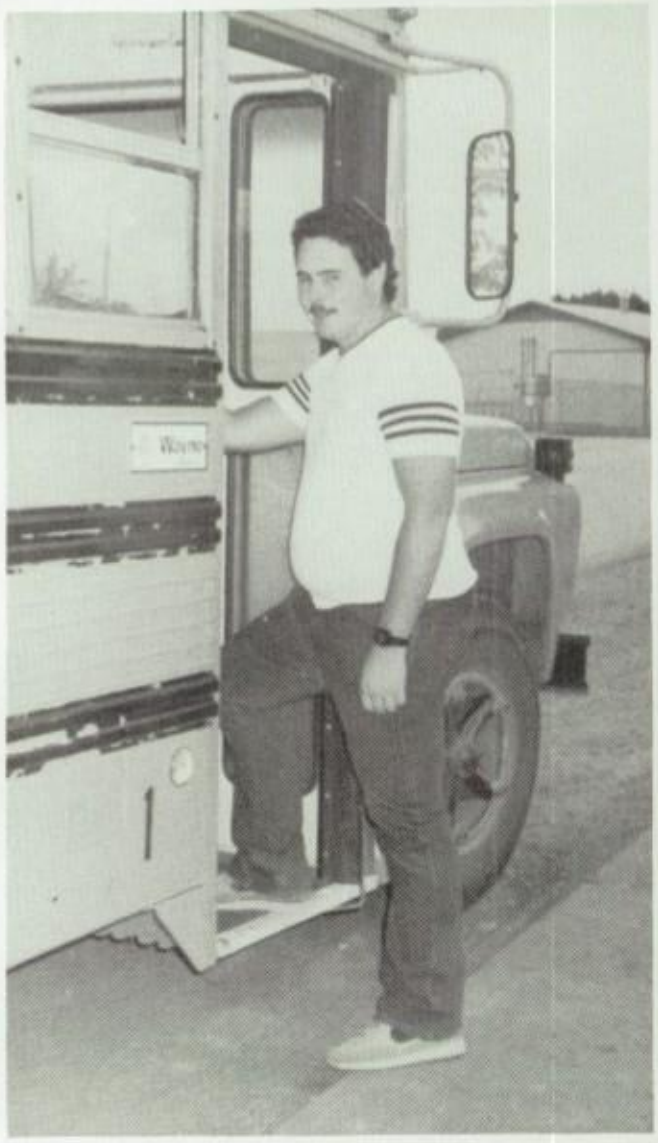
Big button-down shirts are hot on the scenes at Mounds even in the smaller versions as worn by Misty Todd.

TICK TOCK GOES THE CLOCK AND . .



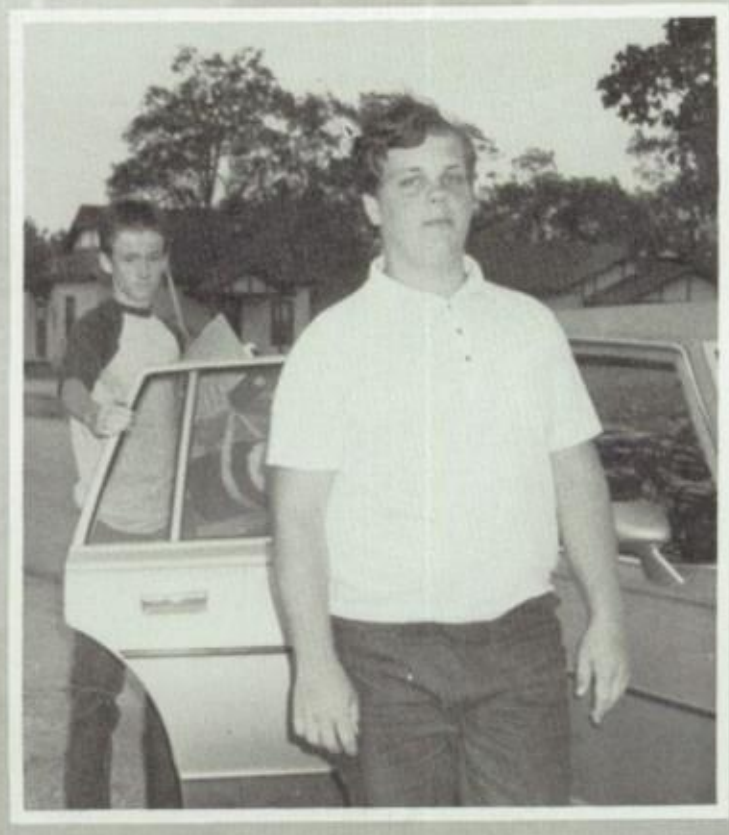
8:45 - First hour begins. What you might not realize is that almost three hours of work have already taken place in order to insure that Mounds students have the best for the day. The custodians have done last minute cleaning, cooks are preparing breakfast and getting supplies ready for the noon meal, bus drivers are pulling busses into line for the morning runs. A lot of work goes into making a school system run smoothly.

Though daylight in this photo, Mr. Cumbey usually begins before dawn.



Vo Tech students like Craig have to get up early to catch the bus.

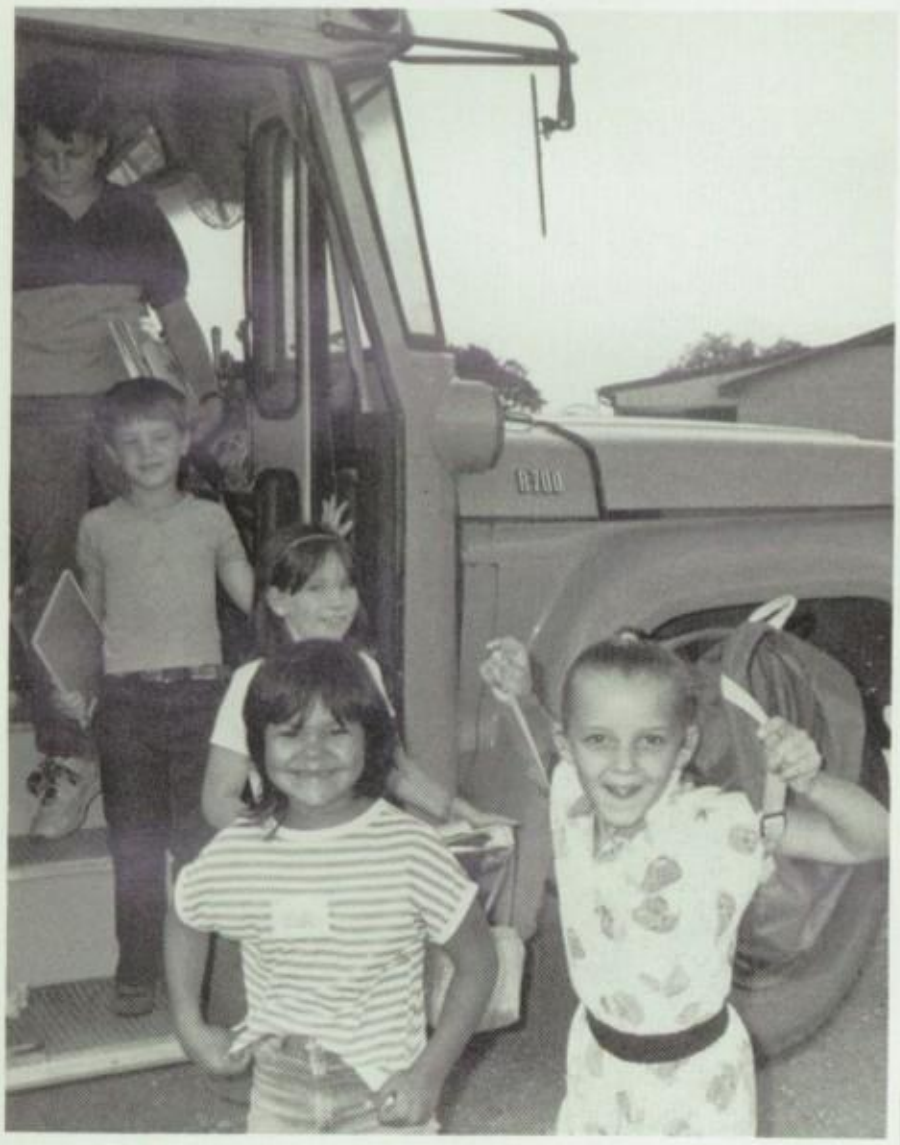
"I look like this, and there's no early band today?"



Parents have to pay the price too to get students to 7:30 band.

"I'll be glad when my friends get here."

ANOTHER DAY BEGINS AT MOUNDS



"Is this where I get off?"

"We walked a hundred miles to get here."

"I can't wait to get ahold of those teachers today. I got something special planned."

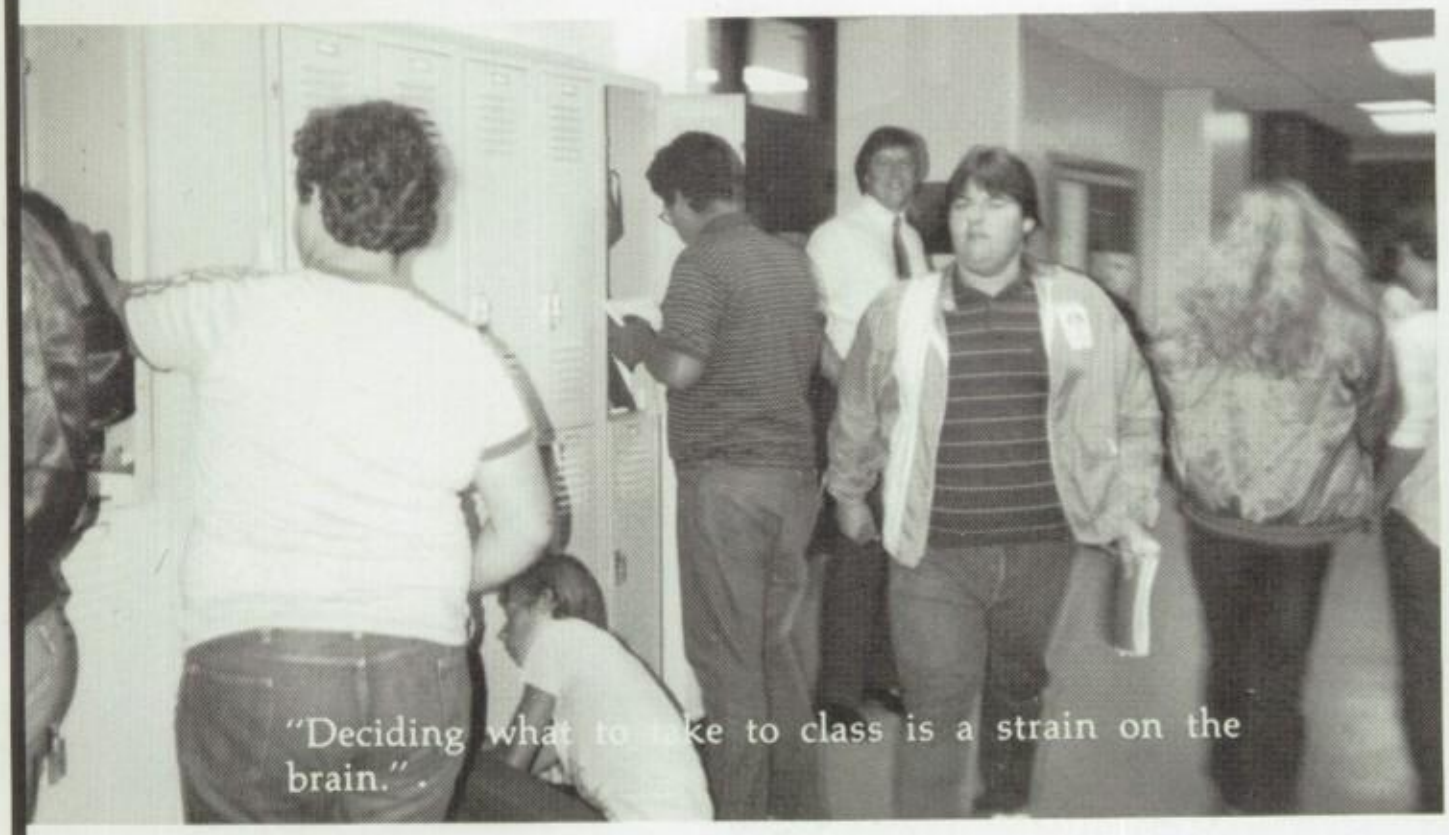
"Thanks, Mom. See you after school. I got to go play."

"A good bike beats walking any day!"

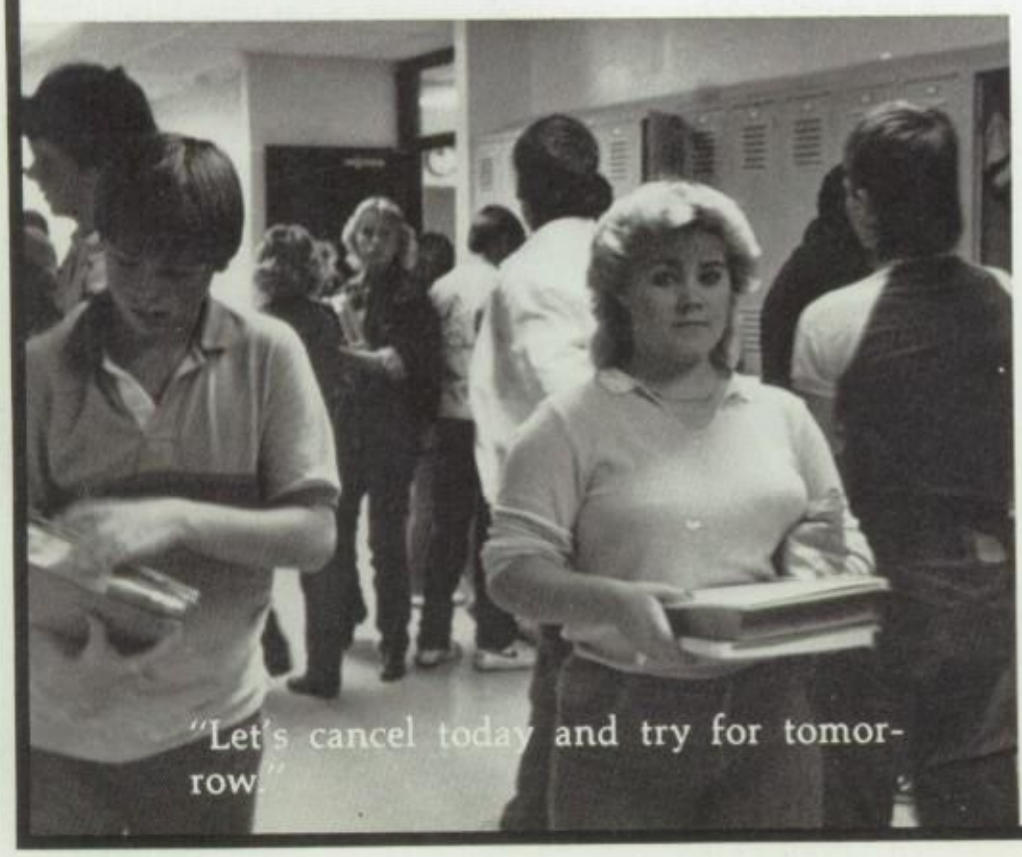
"I hope I brought enough food for snack time today."

LOCKERS

Lockers are home away from home and like one's bedroom, they reflect a personality. What do you want to bet that Jeri Ramey's bedroom is as neat as her locker (upper left). On the other hand, what would Renee Harris' locker (lower right) say about her bedroom? A trip down the halls and a peek into lockers reveal half-eaten sandwiches, empty Coca Cola cans, missing text books that haven't been seen since the first day of school, pictures of old and/or new boyfriends, and last week's test notes that couldn't be found when they were needed. One thing is sure: lockers are one place where students can be free from parents telling them to "clean it up or else." Well, that may be true until someone's bulging locker finally bursts open and the old locker check is the first thing on the agenda for the next day.



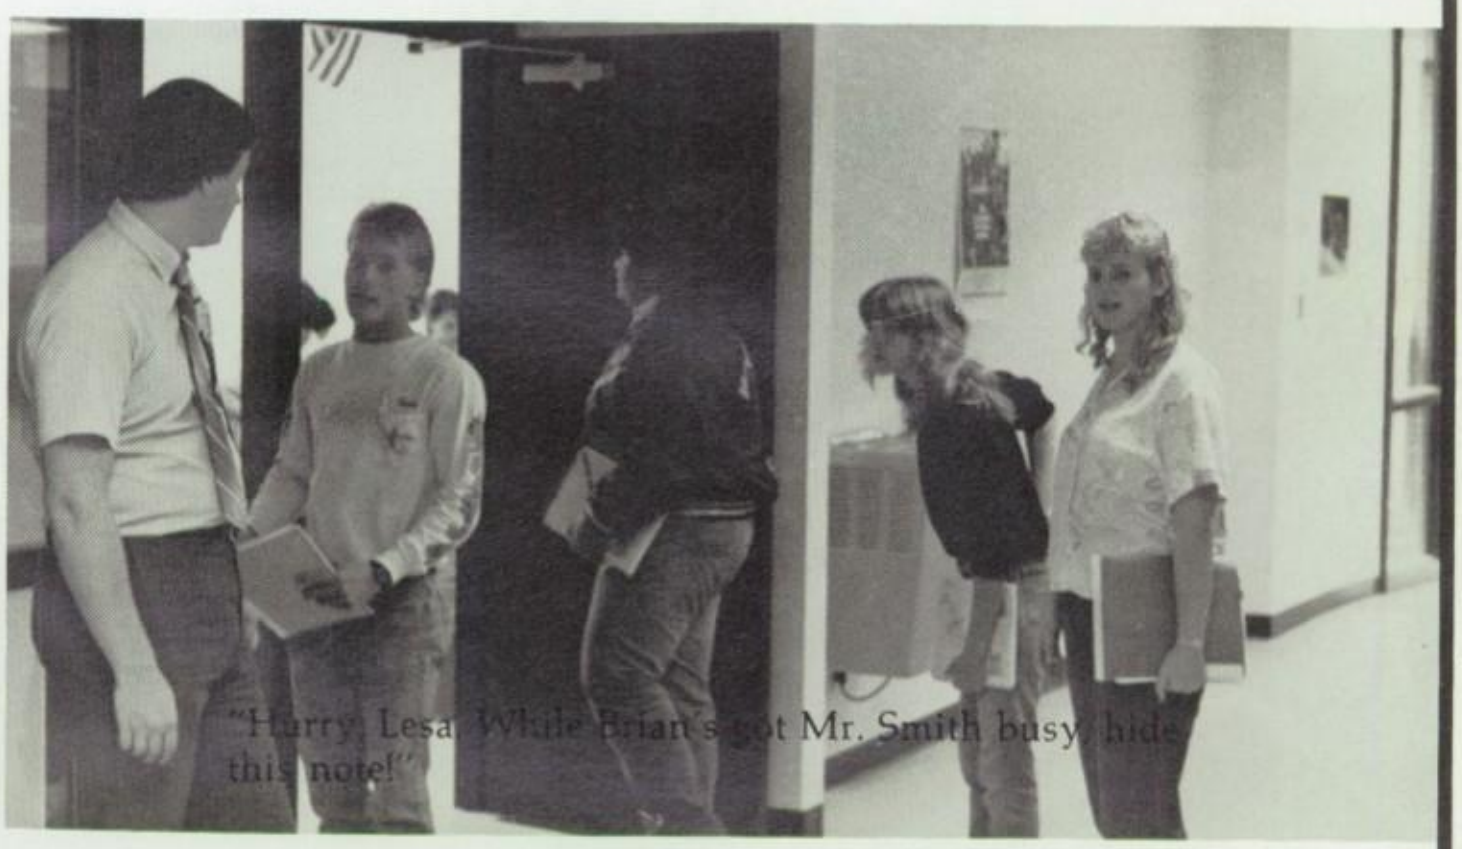
"Deciding what to take to class is a strain on the brain."



"Let's cancel today and try for tomorrow."

BETWEEN CLASSES

Between classes is a time for friends to say "I need to talk to you" or "wait for me after class" or "write me a note about what happened last hour." Students think of between classes as social time when they catch up on all that's gone on the past hour or what happened last night. Any time the sounds of Mr. Campbell or Mr. Paullus "counseling" a student resound throughout the halls, there will be a dash out the door between classes to get the low-down on who, when, or why. Changing classes from one building to another also gives students more opportunity to be free from the eyes and ears of spies. Not many students will forget the "interesting" moments spent between classes.

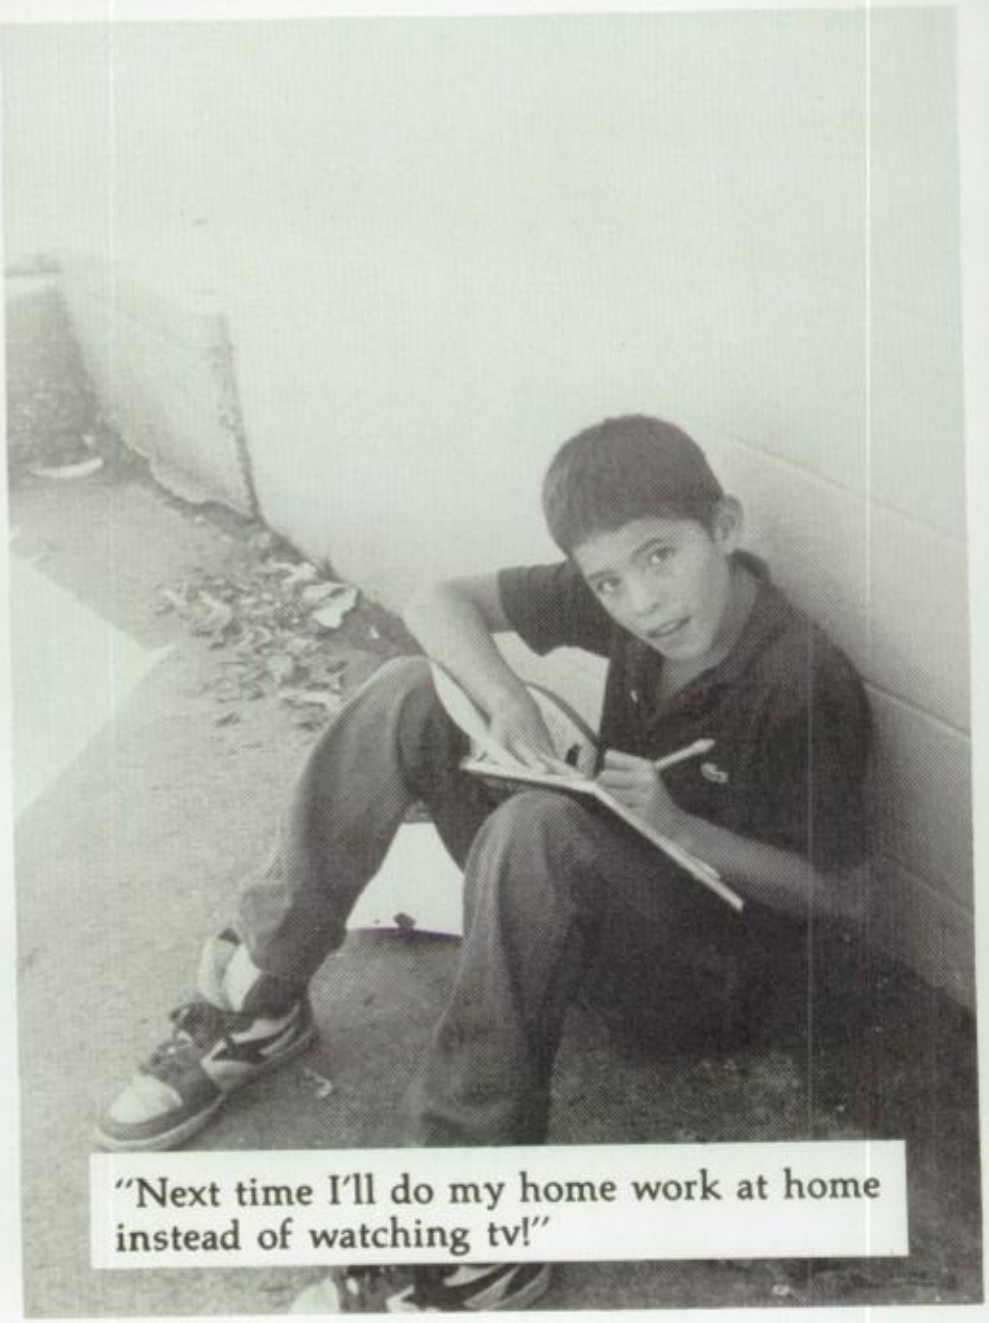


"Hurry, Lesa. While Brian's got Mr. Smith busy, hide this note!"

"Come on, Mac; leave the girls alone."

LUNCH TIME IS

"It's the real thing!"

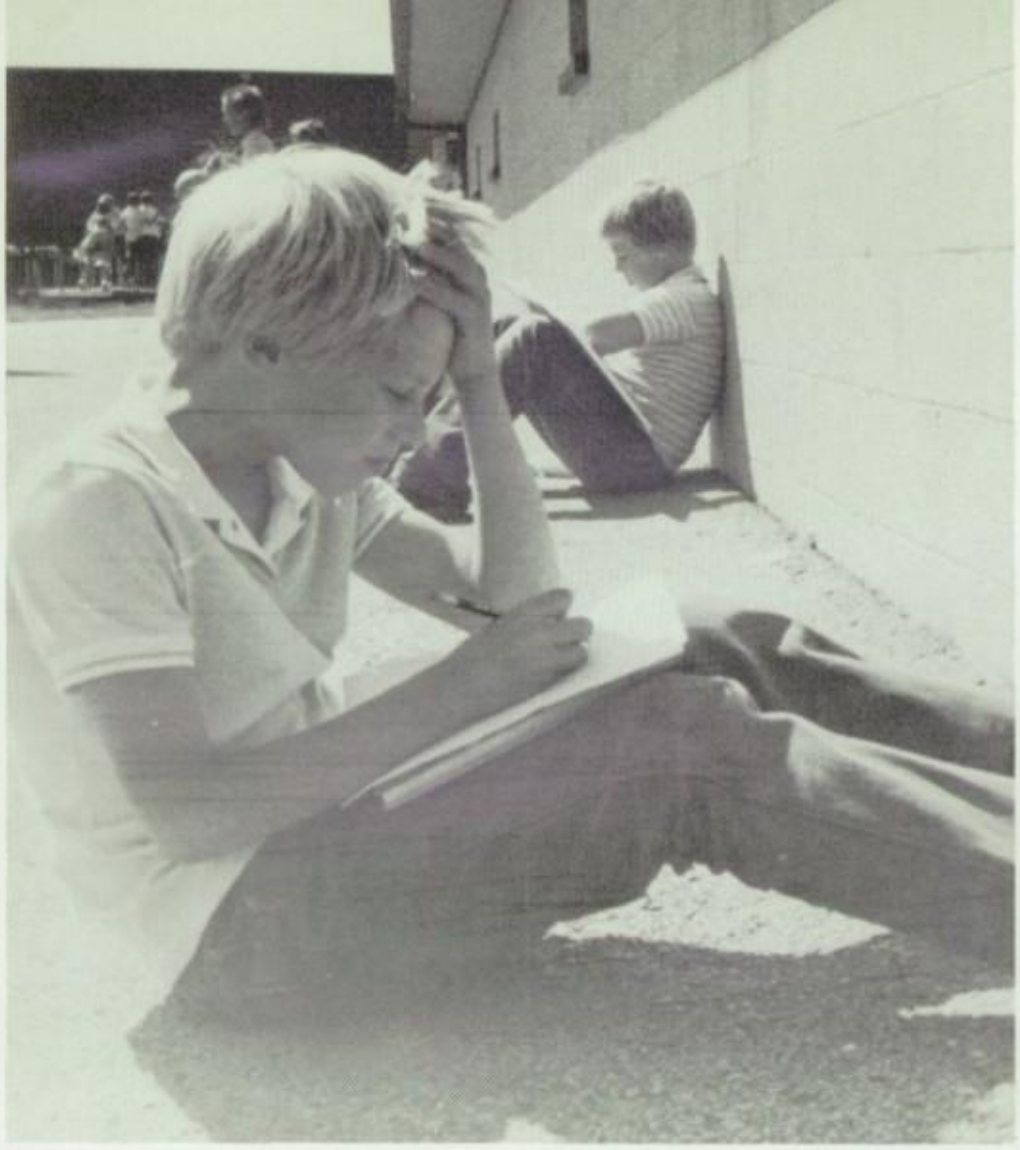


"Next time I'll do my home work at home instead of watching tv!"

"Caught in the act! No one is safe who brings whole wheat bread sandwiches to school!"

Did you ever look around the campus during lunch time? I mean really look around! One quick glance revealed students doing dozens of different things. There were students studying if you can believe that! Made you want to run and get a book too, huh? In another area groups congregated to discuss the very latest "whatever". Still others cast alluring glances in the hopes of catching a new boy or girl friend. The pace was a little slow on high school level. Elementary students never walked anywhere. Lunch time: where did all the time go? IT WAS NEVER LONG ENOUGH!

"Well, I guess I've done enough damage to this for one day."



SOMETIMES LUNCH TIME IS STUDY TIME!
Left: "That math can make the best of 'em bite the dust."
Below: "If you do your work when you're supposed to, then you can play King of the Mountain like us."

"Lunch time is just too much to cope with. After all, I'm only a teen."

"I promise we're not smuggling food into the building!"

MUNCH TIME AND...

FRIENDS ARE FOREVER . . .

"Friends laugh together so others will wonder what's going on," say Tanya & Shannon.

What are friends? Friends are listening boards, shoulders to cry on, and good buddies. Friends are always there when you need them and always care when problems arise. Mounds School has more than its share of friends.

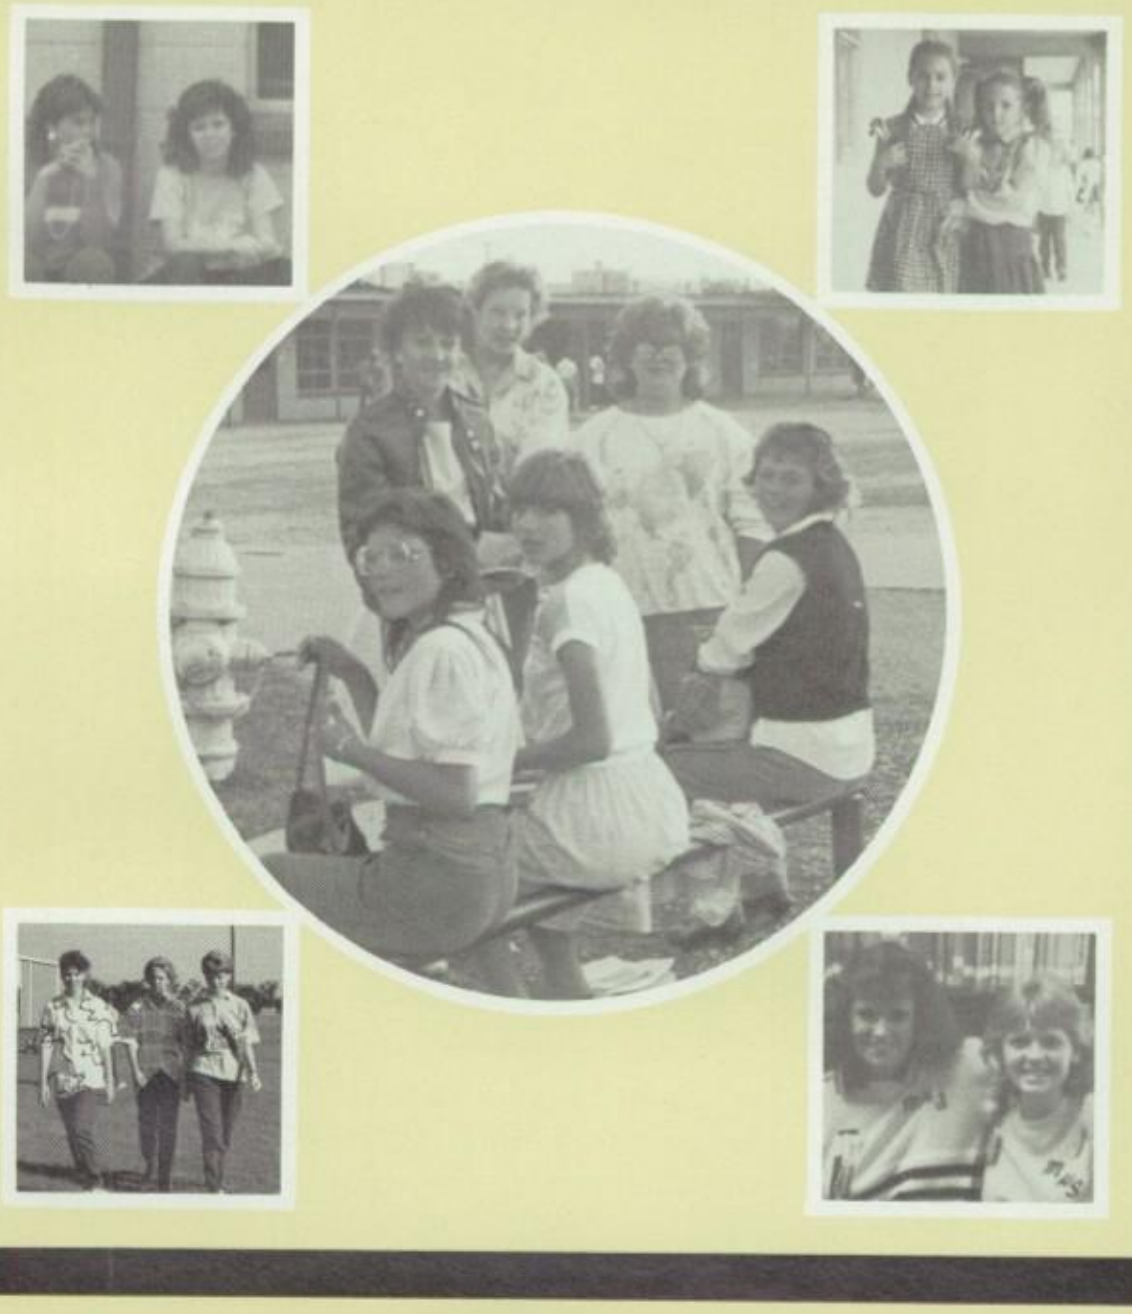
"We're more than friends; we're clones!"

"Friends share the spirit of Mounds School."

"Friends love to have their pictures taken. Take mine, please, please, please!"

"I've had a rough day on the range so don't mess with me. If you know what's good for you, you'll be my friend, pard - ner, or I'll have to shoot ya!"

AND EVER



Friends help each other with homework and share secrets too.

Don't look at us, we're only talking about the --- game!

Friends help each other: "I need a book report. Have you seen the movie that matches this book?"

UP WITH

3:30

The bell sounds, and they're off! With new-found energy, once-lethargic students burst from classrooms all over the campus to long-awaited after-school pleasures. Their energies UP and moving, it's off to see what activities will make the day complete!

(Below) Chuck combines homework and a job.

AFTER SCHOOL ?

(Above) School is such hard work that Scott, Brian, Ricky, and Terry find the first convenient place to relax and clear their heads of all those "unimportant" things-like math.

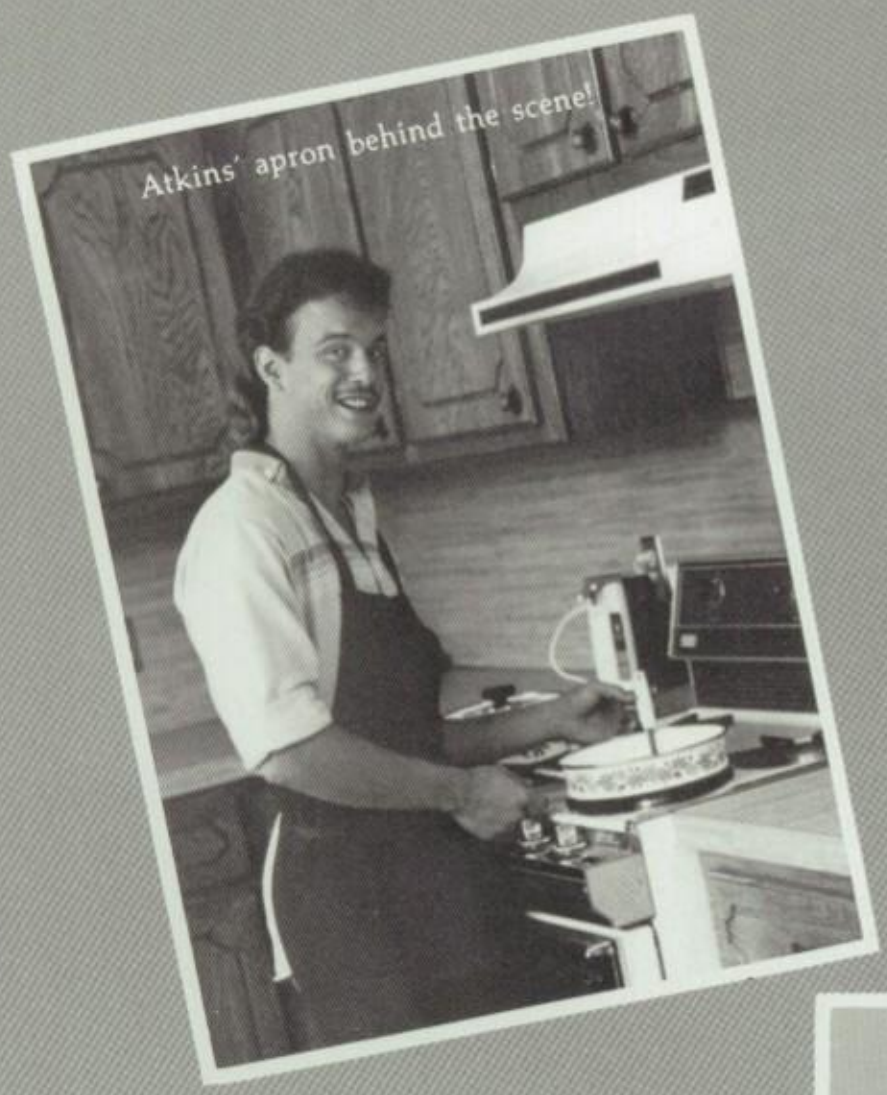
Barber's Superette is the after-school stop for a bag of munchies, a bottle of pop, and conversation.



BEHIND THE SCENES

A great school on the way UP happened over night! Right?? Wrong!! It took many hours behind the scenes to keep our school running and to achieve success in all areas. Whether it was scholastic achievements, sports, or extra-curricular activities, Mounds students put forth their best efforts and made our school # 1.

"I'm not from Mars! It's hair rollers to make me decent for 1st hr."

Before-school practice gave the flag girls a great year.

A lot of preparation is necessary behind the scenes to get a good team on the way UP!

Cheerleaders work after school posting UP some school spirit for the Mounds vs Oilton football game which was later won by the Devils.

The long hours of sweat and toil on the practice field began in August for the Mounds varsity. After-school practices continued well beyond the regular class day. After a long losing record, this moment in the dressing room after the season's first victory made all the pain and agony worthwhile. This victory was only a stepping stone to a season that was UP all the way!

We turned on the light to show you what Dustin does in the dark . . . room!

Rain, sleet, sunshine, or snow: the cooks made the lunchroom the place to go.

UP WITH ACADEMICS

The library is a new facility which makes it easy to find needed information. Eighth graders work hard finding information for English reports.

Though a small rural community of only 2,000 people who are mainly ranchers, farmers, and commuters, Mounds prides itself on its school, its curriculum, and the many programs it offers to its students. Our school district encompasses 38-square miles of rolling countryside and transports approximately two-thirds of our students back and forth to school each day. Academics is stressed in our classrooms, and the majority of our students are highly-motivated. Mounds has an above-average percentage of students who continue their education past high school. Our students also have access to county-wide vocational training as juniors and seniors. A school district that is definitely moving UP! That's MOUNDS!

SUPERINTENDENT'S HONOR ROLL

In order to identify students who excel in academics, the superintendent instituted the honor roll. In order to be named to this roll, students must maintain a 4.0 or A's in every subject. Many students strive for but only a few achieve this goal. In addition, Mounds has the principal's honor roll which recognizes students who have no lower than a B for the period being checked.

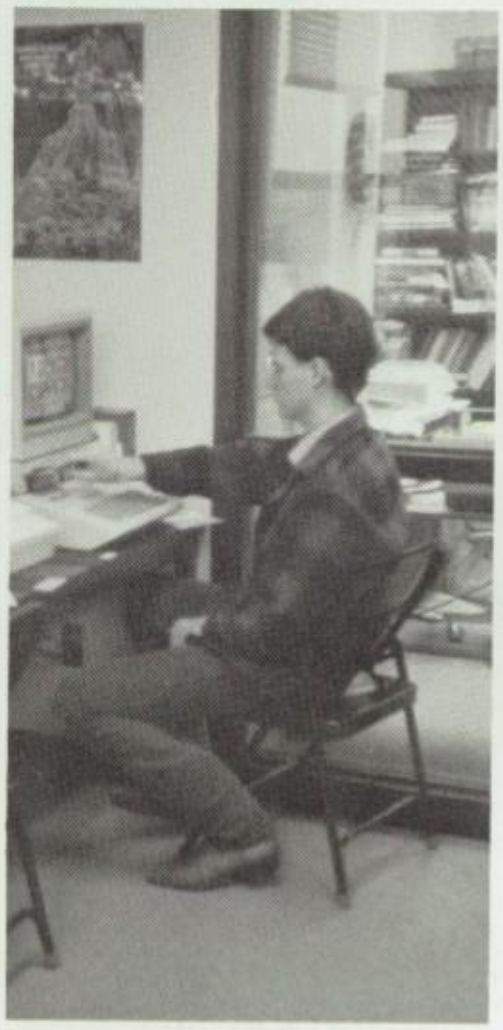
KNOWLEDGE CAN OPEN ANY DOOR

Whether it's working their hands or their heads, Mounds students from Kindergarteners to Seniors make the most of their time in class. Mounds School is proud to offer a variety of classes and educational experiences to its students.

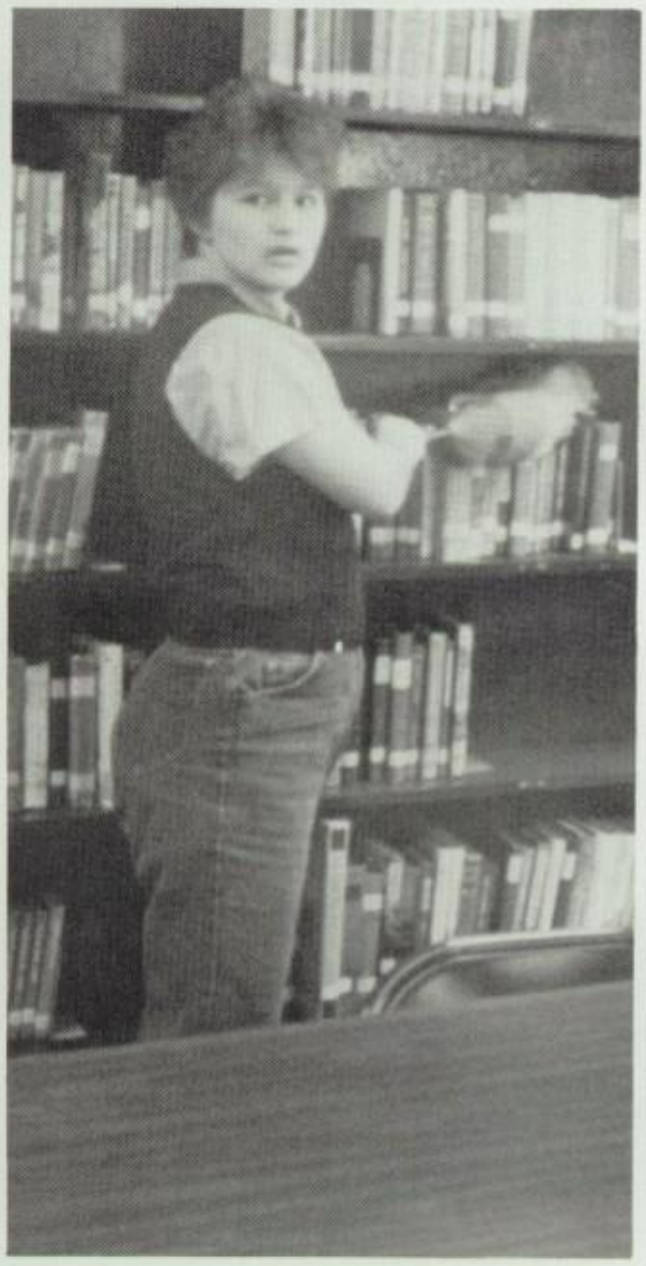


Top right: Drafting means hard work.
Left: Computers come in handy when doing the newspaper.
Middle right: Kindergarteners love art work.
Bottom left: This will be a new dress — someday!
Bottom right: Believe it or not — they really do work in shop class.

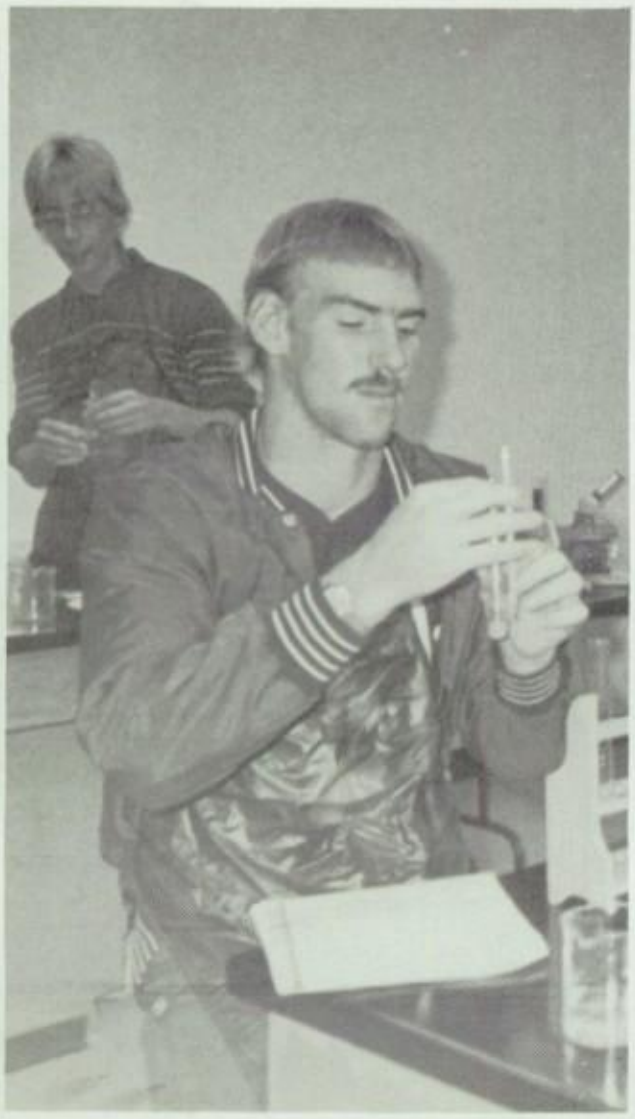
Hard work results in many rewards. Sometimes it's immediate (a freshly-baked cookie), and sometimes it's long-range (passing an important test.)

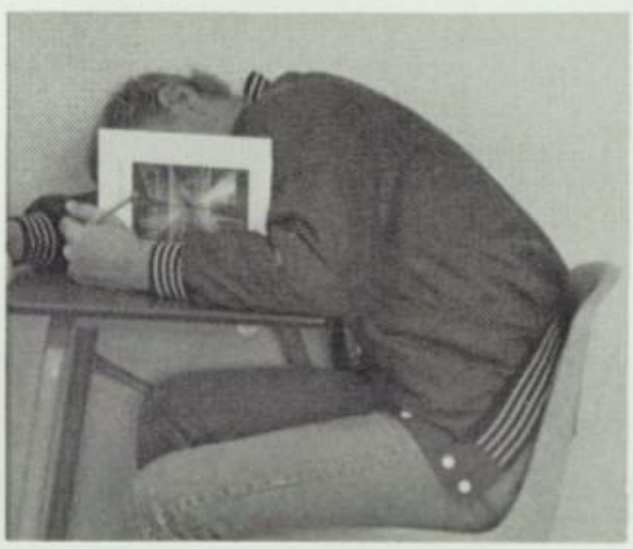
Top left: "It's hard to keep your mind on studying when there's more important things going on!"
Right: What's this in the muffin? It's moving!"
Bottom left: "Mrs. UpChurch, how do you get flour out of your ear?"
Bottom right: "Is that the stuff you get off your teeth? I hope it doesn't multiply! It could take over the world."

THE THIRST FOR KNOWLEDGE



SHOULD LAST A LIFETIME





To move UP the ladder of success, knowledge has to be at the foot of the ladder. However, all work and no play makes school awfully dull. Let's think of some of the fun times: (Far left) Have you ever thought about your pencil? Does it shrink as you grow older or what? (Those pencils are giants to kindergarteners!) Your pencil (or pen) provides hours of pleasure and can actually help you think! Is it helping any, Crystal and Regina?) It (or the lack of it) can also cause pain! (Ben, does Mr. Greeson know?) Where do you go when the pen (pencil) gives out. The library! It not only has pencils but other supplies. First hour had housecleaning duty (Shake that feather duster, Michelle!) in order to make the library a great place to study for classes like eighth grade English. (Right, Derek!)

So, in the years to come, when you think of school, think of classtime as a happy, learning experience — an experience that can never be repeated again!

Knowledge comes from doing. These groups used their heads and hands to become winners.
(top left) "I think these are the components for a stink bomb. Do I dare try it?"
And then we have the group who learns by osmosis. (Osmosis - an apparently effortless absorption of ideas, feelings, attitudes, etc.) These participants shall be unnamed in an effort to protect their identity. Can YOU name them?

HAPPINESS IS LEARNING

Take a classroom of students, a good teacher, and a desire to learn and you have Mounds School. But, just when we thought we would have some serious pages, people became funny. Weird faces seem to be a standard form whenever yearbook staff shows UP. They appear in every class and at every level. Once again, we won't print names, but we know you know who they are!

(Top right) "We're ready to learn teacher!"
(Middle right) These first grade Indians came to lunch on Thanksgiving, and did they ever enjoy it. More importantly, they learned about why we celebrate Thanksgiving and even made their own costumes.

Bottom: Career Day at Mounds allowed juniors and seniors the opportunity of visiting with various college representatives as well as recruiters from the Armed Services.

THE FUN WAY!

(top left) "If you give us a quarter, we'll smile for you."
(top center) "This is what you little kids will look like years from now — educationally interested students eager to learn. Don't we look eager?"
(top right) "We know when to be quiet and study — when Mr. Paullus is standing at the door!"
(center left) "Did you know all this STUFF was inside a frog?"
(Center) "Wait until Mr. Smith reads this program!"
(center rigth) "Anybody brave enough to try one of these popcorn balls?"
(Bottom) Sixth grade celebrated an old-fashioned Christmas!

UP WITH PEOPLE

Visiting before school and between classes was one way everyone kept up on the latest news.

UNIQUE - the one word which best described Mounds students. We were a truly cosmopolitan group with our students coming from twenty-three different states ranging from Maine to Washington and points in between. We, also, had students who came from far-away places like Heidleberg Germany, Kingston Jamaica, and Hawaii. New students were added to our classes almost every week making our number go UP. Mounds Students: no other school was comparable to us!

"Quick! What did you get for # 6?"

"Girls! Yuck! Who needs them!"

"I'm just holding up this wall."

"How far is it to Hollywood?"

"Don't ask me to smile too much."

"Wait, I want in the picture!"

"I'll show you how to do a cheer!"

MOUNDS STUDENTS

Mounds students do more than just reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic. Many students have special talents or spend their free time in special activities. In these pages we want you to meet just a few of Mounds' interesting students and learn how they spend their free time.

(Above) Staci Hiles, a second-grade student, spends her free time in the stable grooming and training her pintos. Since the age of two Staci has worked with her horses. She rides English and Western and has placed three years at nationals. "Keep riding high, Staci, and we'll see you UP there in the winner's circle!"

(Below) Zac Mosely, a talented fifth grader, spends all of his spare time drawing or dreaming about drawing. He's very proud of his uncle who also draws and showed him different techniques. Zac's mother commented, "We knew it was time to give him crayons and paper when he drew all over the wall." Zac's interest was further whetted by his kindergarten teacher who encouraged him to draw a toy. Zac chose to do a stuffed toy, and he's been moving UP to more difficult pictures ever since.

(Right) Lisa Cole, sophomore, knew when she was two that singing was for her. She made her public debut at age 8 ½ when her brother bribed her with twenty dollars to sing at a flea market. Lisa says it took her two years to get the twenty dollars, but it was worth it. She next sang in "Showtime" here at Mounds and astounded us with her talents. Since then she has sung and won at "Show Biz" and "Lowe's Country Music" in Branson, Missouri. Her favorite style is pop country, and we at Mounds know there's only one way for Lisa to go - UP!

ARE SPECIAL

(Above) Duo-talents Rebecca (fifth grade) and Beth Miller (seventh grade), display a winning style when they sit down at the piano. Practicing seven days a week for 1 ½ to 2 hours per day pays off for these two young ladies. Both enjoy classical music the best, and to hear them play is a real treat. We hope they continue moving UP with their talents to greater things.

(Below) Dirt, dust, rain, and mud are all common enemies for junior motocross advocate, Brian Roe. No matter what the weather, he can be found on his favorite bike, the Yamaha, jumping railroad crossings or taking to the high ground. Since the age of four, Brian has been fascinated with bikes and riding. He has ridden in every kind of motocross in Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, and Arkansas. His favorite races have been the Ponca City NMA Nationals and Lake Whitney, Texas, GNC Nationals. We hope Brian keeps the bike UP-right and makes it to the big-time races in the future.

(Left) Jazz, ballet, tap, or point make no difference to Tina Roe, Mounds freshman. She loves them all. At three, she began dancing lessons with Carol T's of Sapulpa and has been dancing ever since. Her practice sessions are once a week and right before contest, twice a week. Tina has danced in competitions sponsored by Dance Masters of America. Congratulations to this graceful and talented young lady as she moves UP to success.

UP WITH SENIORS

SENIORS ARE SMART!
They know if you can't get a girl with looks, you can always hogtie them.

"Those were the happy times; those were the sad times; those were the years to remember: the years of our youth."

As kindergarteners it was hard to perceive that some day we would be seniors. Now, as that "some day" has become reality, we realize with smiles and tears that our senior year closes the doors on a special chapter in our lives. But, we shall remember .... with fondness all the golden moments:

"Being born," "being saved," "my 16th birthday," "getting my first job," "getting my first car," "being nominated best worker at Sapulpa Tech," "going to Paris, France," "going to Norway," "taking 2nd place with jazz band in 2A," "realizing no one can take my opinions or my knowledge away from me," "becoming a senior," "the big day - GRADUATION."

We leave Mounds School with tears - that we leave behind us great friends and unique times; with apprehension - that we know not what life holds in store for us tomorrow; with happiness -- that challenges undreamed of, but anticipated, await us as the young men and women of tomorrow who shall accept the responsibilities of life. As seniors, we look UP and forward to a challenging new tomorrow.

Just as original Coca Cola was a classic so too was this familiar lunch scene a "true classic." No day would have been complete on the high school parking lot without Gary Culbert's "two-ton" speakers sitting atop his car and blaring out the latest in pop, rock, or country and western.

Students gathered around to tap a foot to the beat, to discuss the latest events in the day, or simply to relax before the rest of a "grueling" day. One thing was certain: this classic scene would be a lunch-time oldie that would be greatly missed in the years to come.

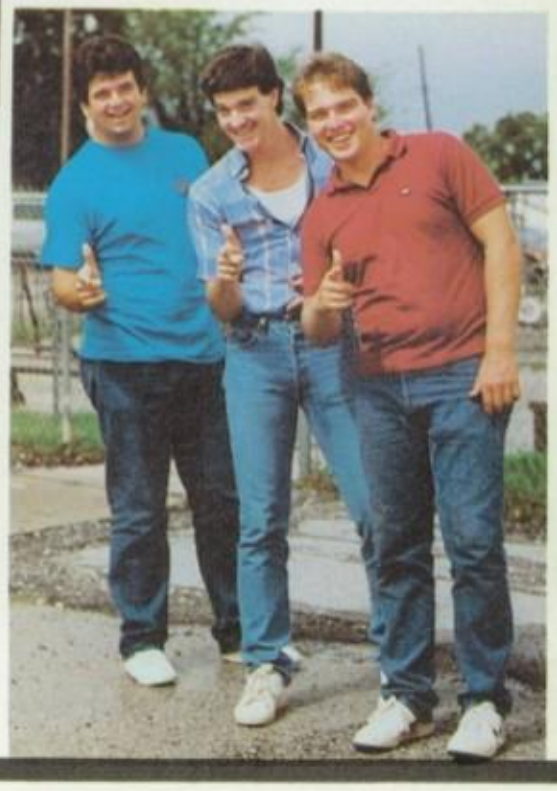
DO GROW UP



UP WITH ACTIVITIES

Typing copy, searching negatives for that "just-right" picture, doing ad pages, cutting mugs apart, and writing copy: we worked hard to make the annual a good one.

A school's activities are necessary to "round-out" the curriculum and give students ways to express talents that are sometimes not in evidence in the regular classroom. Mounds definitely had its share of talented students who worked together, played together, and sometimes cried together as we made the year complete. Whether it was pep assemblies, homecoming activities, open house, Christmas programs, semester tests, Valentine's Day movie, or graduation, we shared a feeling of unity that held us together and moving UP. In our activities we strived to make them the best, and they were!

The Mounds marching band took time out from musical duties at a home football game to relax and watch the game. The band's music, pre-game performances, and half-time performances were welcomed by enthusiastic fans. Anyone who saw them perform knew why they had earned highest honors at all competitions they had entered.

ANNUAL STAFF 1986-87

The staff consisted of Connie Dearman-junior, Donita Chaney-senior, Lisa Stone-junior, Sherri Legg-sophomore, Dustin Chambers-sophomore, and Mrs. Zeiler-sponsor. "We honestly didn't know what we were getting into. Publishing a yearbook? EASY! Not so easy as one might think. After attending a three-day work-shop in the summer at Oklahoma City, we were ready to tackle anything. Past yearbooks had been great, and we wanted to carry on the tradition. We tried, and it's up to you to determine if we succeeded. At times we wanted to pull our hair out or simply vanish into the night. But, here it is! READ! ENJOY! REMEMBER!"

"Deadlines - - YUCK!"

"Only two days to deadline!"

MOUNDS VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

UP WITH SPIRIT

Linda Chambers, coach & organizer for the nine varsity cheerleaders, worked hard to make us the best. Under her supervision, the cheerleaders added many new cheers, dance routines, and pyramids

High school varsity cheerleaders of the 1986-87 school year climb UP with spirit to show the victory pyramid. Cheerleaders include (bottom L-R) Tracie Brown (jr.), Sherri Legg (soph.), Stephanie Linnet (jr.), Courtney Church (soph), Reneé Harris (jr.), (top L-R) Melissa Green (jr.), Dannette Mudd (fr.), Michelle Dunn (fr.), Angie Thompson (soph)

Pyramids weren't the only things that went UP for the MHS squad. Posters, spirit hoops, and school spirit were all UP throughout the football and basketball seasons. Chants to get the crowd UP on their feet and their spirit UP were often heard to cheer Mounds athletic teams on.

Co-sponsor, Janet English, loaned a helping hand with high school and junior high homecoming decorations.

"Our spirit is contagious just watch it catch on" chants the smiling faces of the MHS cheerleaders on Football homecoming night.

The band members waited for days and weeks to move into the new band room, but the building delay lasted all through the marching season. After everyone had forgotten that there would be a band room, the big day came. Members moved only the music to the new music library and the marching equipment to the new storage room. Finally on Friday, November 21, 1986, the band officially moved UP to its new facilities.

JAZZ BAND

(left) Marching Band had a successful season. The band went to Pryor Marching Contest where they took first place in their class in Parade Marching & Field Marching. The pride also won a superior rating at the Oklahoma Regional Marching Contest held at Union High School.

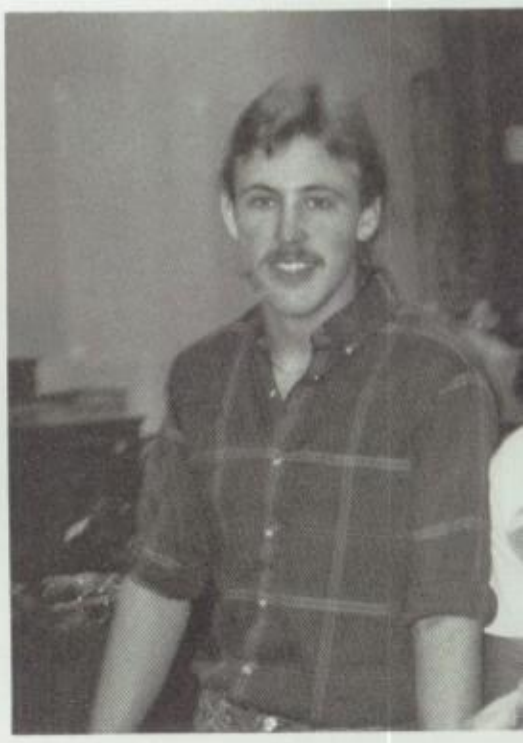
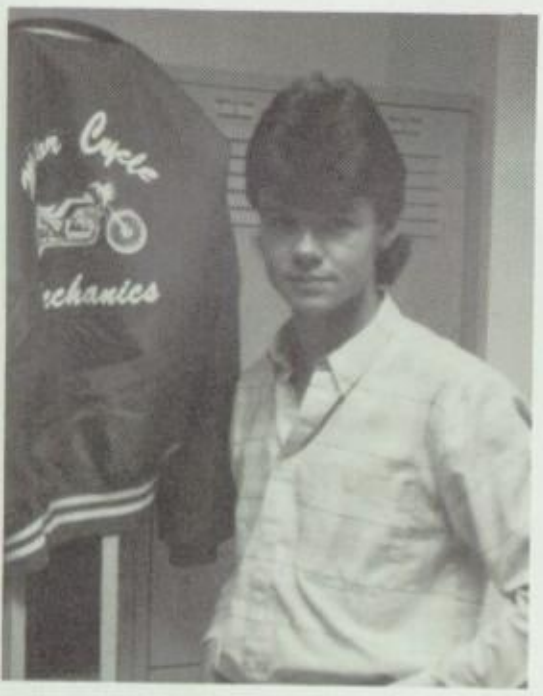
VO-

Vo-Tech is a training ground for the future which gives its students an edge on the job market immediately after high school. Many Mounds students strive to move UP by seeking that edge. Cosmetology students, Debbie & Karen, invite you to visit them for a "hair"-raising experience. Craig & Mike, electronics, get all "wired-up" about their classes. Mitch & Richard, motorcycle mechanics, keep the bikes rolling. Gary & Robert, building & grounds maintenance, keep things clean. Welding students, John & Jerry, think tech is "hot". A few guys in diesel mechanics (Scott, Kevin, Terry, & Steve) keep the 16 wheelers on the road. Finally, Philip, Gary, Troy, & Gary in air and heat make it comfortable.





TECH

Mounds students, also, have the option of going to Sapulpa Vo-Tech campus for classes. Commercial electricity students (Bruce, Gary, John, & Ricky) get a "shock" out of it. The class for computer nuts is data processing and these students (Donita, Lesa, Denise, & Sue) "return" day after day. Laurie in health will keep you in "stitches." Another class is carpentry (Ben & Don) who really "support" tech.

Many other classes are available at both Drumright & Sapulpa campuses. Vo-Tech is a free opportunity to get job training which many students in other counties don't have. Mounds School is proud to be a part of the Vo-Tech program.

UP WITH SPORTS

Elementary students show their style and are "look-in' good!" In this game with Liberty they showed that they are very capable of doing the job! Wait until they move UP to high school! Good going, elementary!

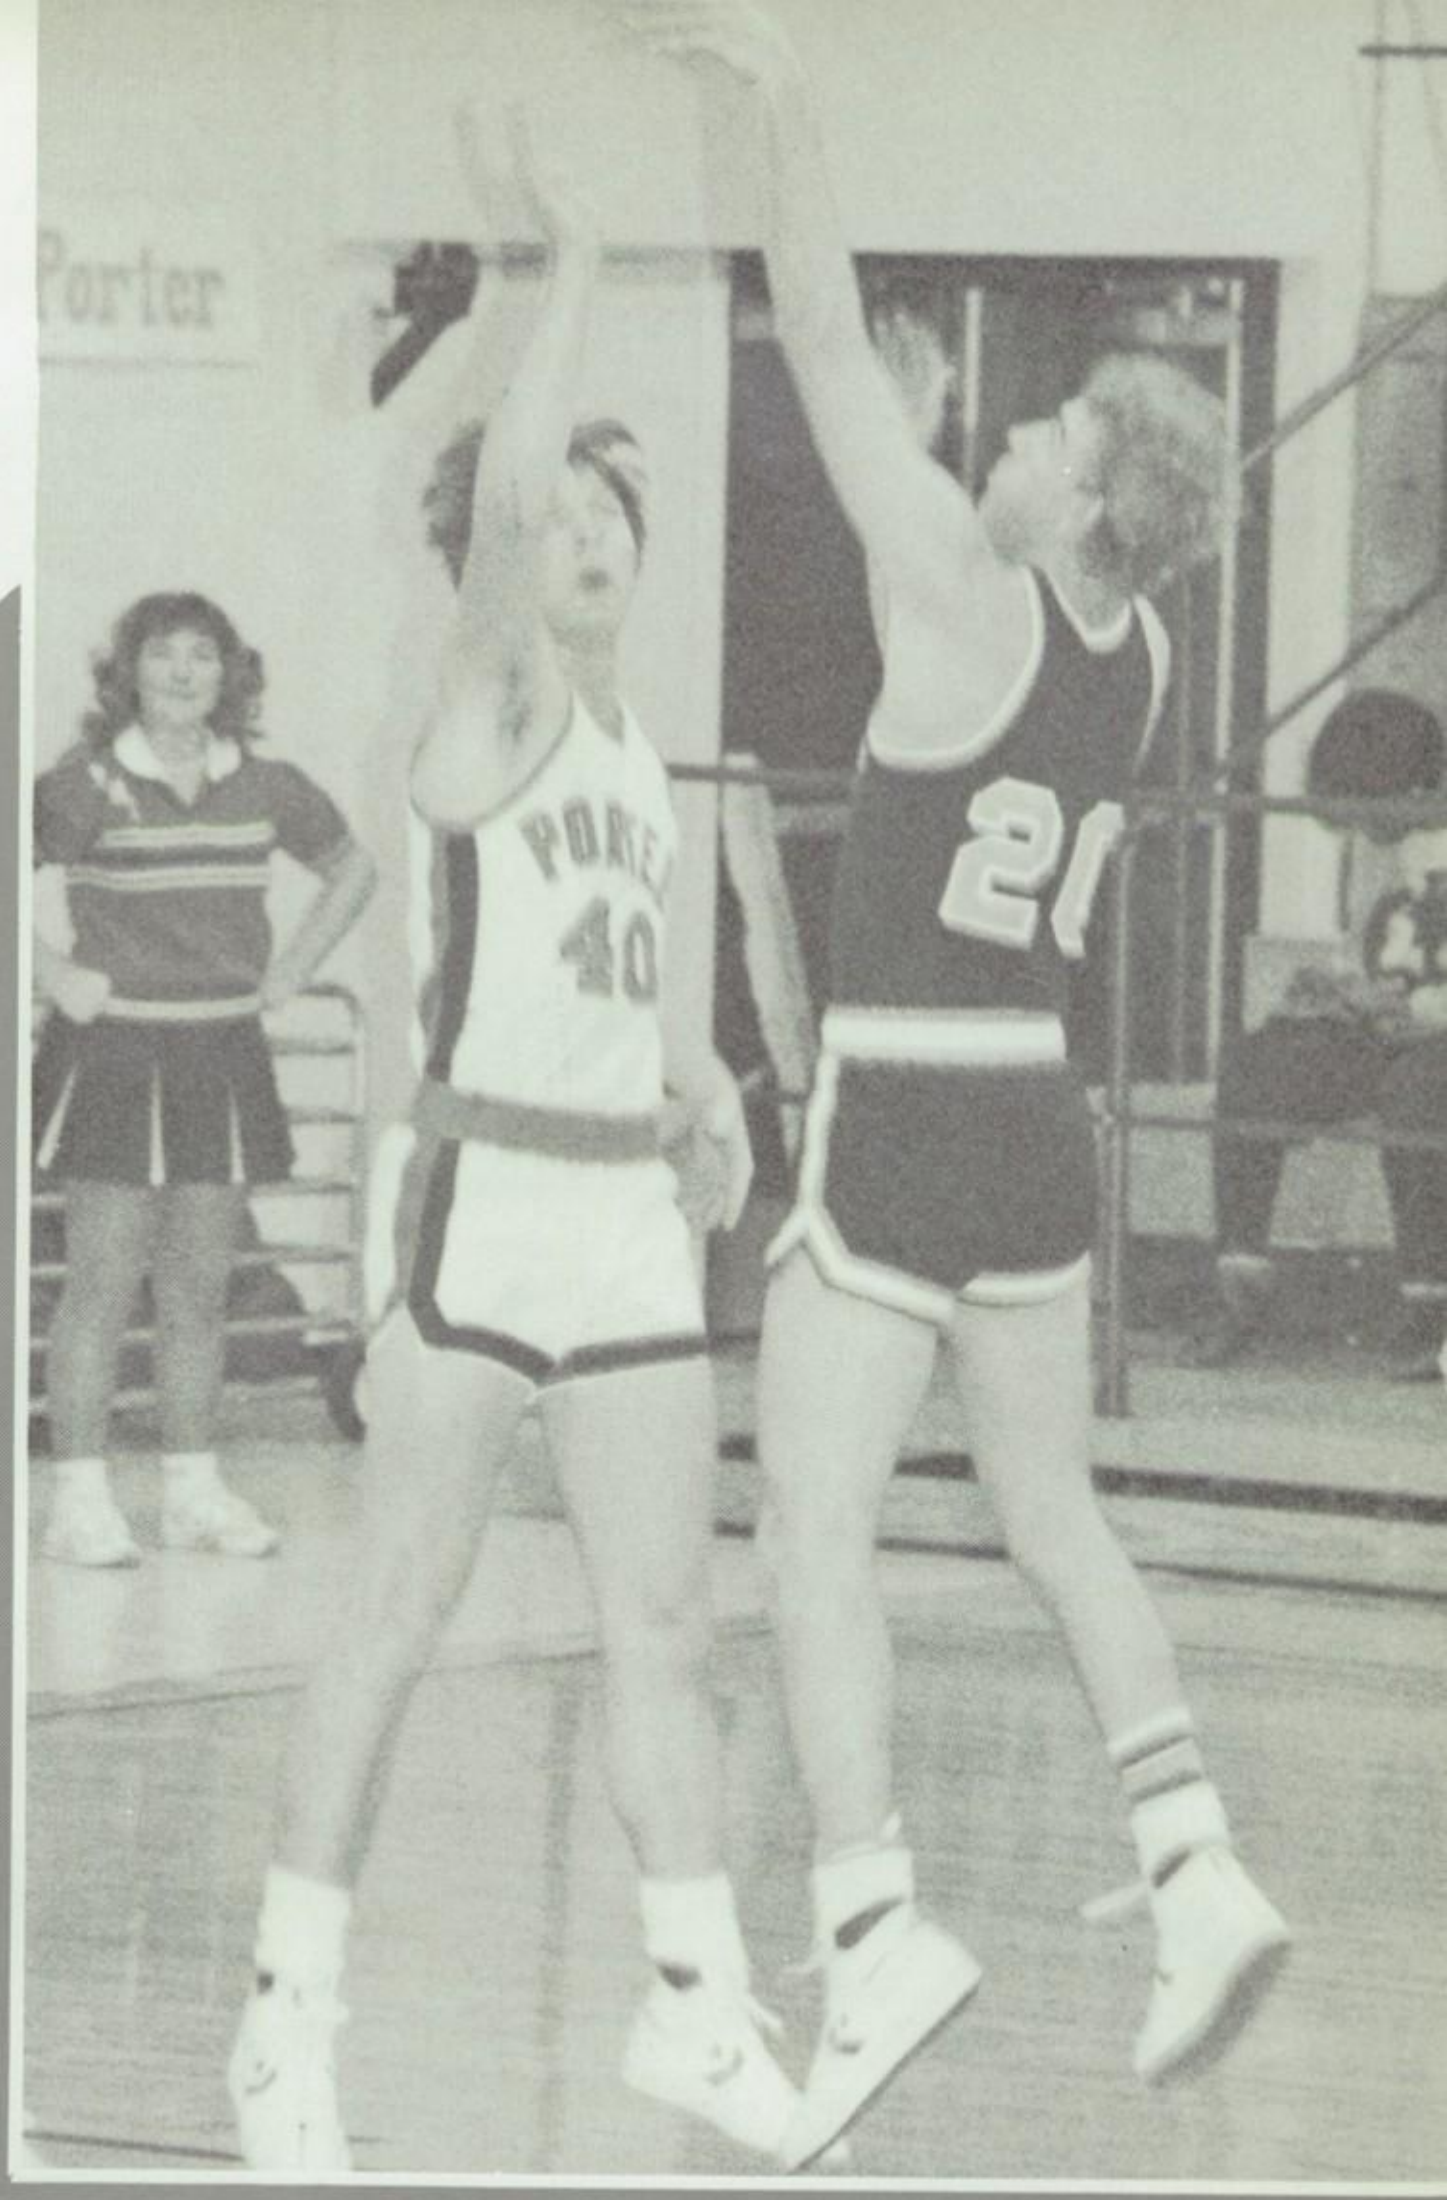
They too proved they had the "stuff" gr teams are made of. As our young people reached seventh and eighth grades, we could see the players who would some day make the differences on our varsity teams. The tradition continued with the ninth grade teams who worked hard and refined their skills even more.

The Lady Devils were "a very young team which improved as the season progressed," expressed Coach Campbell. Coach Irvine continued with "our varsity Devils team worked hard to make the transition from old coach to new coach and their different ways of coaching. It was a struggle since we were already hampered by injuries and personal problems."

Our varsity football team sported its best season in 12 years closing with an 8-3 record. The new weight program will continue to push the team UP to even better results.

Mounds continued to promote physical achievement through competitive athletics. We strive UPward as we constantly seek to improve our sports programs.



Jeff McDonald shows the winning style and form of the true athlete as he goes UP high for two points against Porter. This year Mounds hosted the first ever B-Line Invitational Tournament. This picture exemplifies the spirit, determination, and fortitude our athletes have. These are the qualities it takes to be winners in athletic competition and in life.

THE STARS ARE OUT TONIGHT

Queen Raylene Stacy was caught off guard as she showed her excitement during the 1986 football homecoming. Pictured with her are the queen's court.

The theme of the 1986 football homecoming was "The stars are out tonight." Nothing could have been more true! A tremendous week of spirited days, an exciting parade, regal royalty, beautiful decorations, and a clear night complete with stars led UP to a victory for the Devils over the Oilton Panthers to complete the success of our homecoming.

A big pep assembly was held downtown following the parade. Cheerleaders got the crowd going with several chants & cheers.

Elementary students showed their school spirit with well-decorated bikes which they rode in the parade.

The queen, decorations, and school spirit are all part of homecoming. But, what about the game? The Oilton vs Mounds game truly showed the stars were out that night with a decisive victory 26-0 for Mounds.

The 1987 basketball homecoming was the event of the night Tuesday, February 10 in the Carter Fieldhouse. Olive came to town to see to it that the evening would end unhappily, but it just wasn't to be. The Lady Devils took the floor with cool confidence and showed the Lady Wildcats a few things, ending the game with a score of 69-59. Not to be outdone, the Devils hit the boards with a first quarter of precision teamwork and expert shooting that added to the spirit of the night. The halftime coronation, accompanied by the jazz band, was a nice tribute to the people who participated. (They were great!) The Devils then went back to work defeating Olive Wildcats 64-54. (You can tell Richard wasn't too impressed though. "What's the finger in the ear — a new defensive signal?")

THE END OF ANOTHER YEAR

It's the end of another year at Mounds School and almost the end of our book. Soon the halls will be empty, the lockers cleaned. the playground will be deserted, and the seniors will take that last big step!

Seeing Double? Seeing Double? TWINS! TWINS! TWINS! TWINS! Seeing Double? Seeing Double? TWINS! TWINS! TWINS! TWINS!

"Can you believe it?" For a school the size of Mounds to have six sets of twins (five identical) seems impossible. But, here they are
(top) 11th-AnJeana & LaJeana DeMoss

(bottom L) 5-Jeff and Lance Gibson
(bottom R) 12-Barry & Larry Hawley
(right) K-Tabatha & Ruby Boyles

Being twins can be a problem: never one getting anything new without the other because parents don't want to show favoritism. But, there can be fun too: fooling your teacher!

A LAST LOOK AT

This is what you call "hanging out!"

MOUNDS HIGH SCHOOL

"We love to laugh at other people."

"It is just too sunny to be smiling."

"I wish I were still in bed!"

"We are just body guards for the little guys in the middle."

"I just knew D.J. would change her looks someday!"

"Going to school is harder than you think!"

"This was our bestest friend."

LIFE IN THE JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High has many UPs for its students. The seventh grade has moved UP from elementary while the eighth grade prepares to move UP to high school. These in-between years are a big part of growing UP: no longer a child but far from grown UP. Here, they must learn and accept more responsibility for who they are and what they want out of life.

Junior High is the transition between those happy-go-lucky elementary years and high school when it's time to start UP the ladder of life. It's the time when you start across the room in English class, and your feet forget where they are supposed to go. It's the time when you hold up your hand in history class to ask a question, and you forget what the question was by the time the teacher gets around to asking you what you need. It's the time when you ask a question in science class, and your voices changes notes five times before you get through. But, neat things happen too. The girls are noticing the guys (top left), and the guys are looking at the girls (top right). Then, too, you're still young enough to have time acting crazy with some favorite buddies. (bottom)

Life in the elementary has its cycles: work, play, eat. It could really get boring at times. Just think! There are more years in elementary than in all the rest of the school time. But it does go quickly. Before you know it you're in junior high. Here's how we spent our time:

1. "Trudging through the cold slows a body down!"
2. "Oops! Let me help you. Wouldn't want you to fall. Hee! Hee!"
3. "We smile even when it's cold!"
4. "Let's get the story straight before we go to class!"
5. "Boy, this ice can be tricky!"
6. "Those girls aren't as tough as we are when it comes to standing in the cold!" (Wonder when the bell will ring!)
7. "This car can hit 1mph on a straight-away!"
8. "Anybody want a cap?"
9. "We're just holding up this wall and watching the girls go by!"

1. Shawna Stice has been barrel racing since she was three. She has proven to be a winner with her 10 trophies, 32 ribbons and 3 all-around buckles. She and her pinto Freckles make the audience stand UP and take notice.
2. "Oh, well! Another day!"
3. "I bet you can't do this!"
4. "Maybe tomorrow it won't be so cold!"
5. "Fifth grade is the best!"
6. "How's this for a haircut?"
7. "Mom will get me if I lose any of this stuff. Boy, I can't even get the glove on now."

Teachers Are People Too.

"Time For Kids. That's What It Is All About."

A teacher is someone who wishes to share his knowledge, talents, and time. He views the world through the eyes of youth, yet tempers idealism with experience. Some teach for eight hours, but most teachers are involved before the doors open and many hours after the last students leave the room. In Mounds the teachers share their lives with the kids and that's what it's all about.

"It takes a lot to get the day started."

"The mad professor strikes again!"

"And these people teach us!"

"No one touches this machine!"

"I'm happiest when I'm eating!"

School Board

Doyle Carter, Superintendent

Thirty-six years of educational experience and dedication to the needs of students keynote Mr. Carter's life. "To Mr. Carter, the students are the most important thing; whatever he does, he does it for the students." Since coming to Mounds in 1978, Mr. Carter has seen the school system move UP in many ways. Academics have been greatly emphasized with the additions of the Beta Club, Gifted Program, and Superintendent's honor roll. Most important, however, has been the Upgrading of Mounds buildings with the addition of a new high school campus.

Dennis Campbell, High School Principal
Mr. Campbell combines his principal's duties with girls' basketball coach.

Frank Paullus, Junior High Principal

Frank Adams, Elementary Principal
Mr. Adams also coaches elementary level P.E. and teaches Drivers' Ed.
